

President Ignored Advice To Shun Yacht Trip To Strike Territory

WASHINGTON — Sever a close friends of the President did their best to prevent him sailing to the International Yacht Races on the yacht Nourmahal last weekend.

To travel on Vincent Astor's floating palace to Newport, summer mecca of millionaires, while thousands of textile workers were on strike, seemed to them bad politics.

What they thought was especially bad was the fact serious rioting in the textile strike was taking place in Rhode Island just a few miles from Newport.

Solution

Some of these advisers—especially the more adventurous liberals—privately are urging what they assert is a sure-fire solution of the stalemate textile strike.

These elements place the blame for failure of settlement squarely on the shoulders of the employers. They contend that only the mill operators' refusal to recognize unions is adding up possibility of a peace settlement.

Therefore, the thing to be done they contend, is to "soften up" the employers by indirect Government pressure.

To this end, they propose the bold scheme of the Government renting idle mills in strategic strike centers, putting FERA unemployed to work manufacturing cotton cloth for the needy. FERA workers, they say, already are manufacturing mattresses, shoes, furniture. Why not textiles?

The audacity of this plan fazes Administration militants not at all. Probably there is no chance of Roosevelt adopting it; but they declare that similar tactics were responsible for breaking the deadlock in the turbulent Minneapolis teamsters' strike.

They claim that blond, statuesque Floyd Olson, Farmer-Laborite Governor of Minnesota, after exhausting his patience with the employers, finally called up Roosevelt.

"Mr. President," he said, "We are in a bad jam here, getting nowhere fast. The RFC is holding considerable paper of these Minneapolis banks. And these banks have notes of most of these employers."

"Now my suggestion for breaking this thing up is for Jesse Jones to get in touch with these bankers and notify them that the Government does not intend having its loans impaired by employers who are willing to cut their throats to spite their noses."

Olson's friends say positively that Jones did confer with certain Minneapolis bankers.

What, if anything, the RFC chairman said, is not related. But it is a fact that five days after the Olson telephone talk with Roosevelt the employers suddenly reversed themselves, accepting a settlement proposed by Government negotiators which they had previously refused to consider.

Crossed Hoes

The New Deal having gone very Navy-minded, latest innovations are official flags for the Attorney-General and the Postmaster-General, to be flown by all Naval vessels when these officials are aboard.

At which the old-line officers of the Navy have had no little laugh. They point out that the Postmaster-General's flag carries the figure of a pony-express rider, dashing along at a full gallop—over the ocean waves.

The only Cabinet member who hasn't an official Naval flag at present is the Secretary of Agriculture. It ought to be no trouble to devise one, chuckle several admirals. Specifically, they suggest:

Crossed hoes over a row of cotton, and a gravestone inscribed "Three Little Pigs."

GIRL DEAD, MANY HURT IN CRASH

BELL'S SIDING WRECK SCENE AT 1 O'CLOCK

Believe Dead Girl Either
Garnett or Eva Melton
Of Akron

GOING TO ORIENT
Eight Persons Riding In Second Machine

BULLETIN

The girl killed in the crash was identified as Eva Melton, 30, of Akron.

One girl was killed and three persons were seriously injured in a head-on collision of two automobiles south of Bell's Siding, north of Circleville, about 1 p. m. today.

Twelve persons were involved in the accident and at press time today, Sheriff Charles Radcliff had not completed an investigation.

The dead person has not been identified, although it is believed that she is either Garnett or Eva Melton, of Akron, O. It was learned that Otto Melton, 60, an attendant at the Orient feeble-minded farm, Scioto-twp, accompanied by his three daughters, Mildred, Garnett and Eva were to return to the farm today after a journey to Frasersburg, W. Va.

INFORMATION VAGUE

The father and two daughters were seriously hurt and were able to talk but little. One of the daughters told a Herald reporter that her two sisters, Garnett and Eva, were sitting in the rumble seat of their Chevrolet coupe. Hospital attaches believe that the dead woman is either the former or latter.

Miss Lois Brim, of Upper Arlington, driver of a LaSalle sedan, accompanied by her sister, Betty, two brothers, two maids, and two small friends of the brothers, was coming south on Route 23, she said, when the Chevrolet coupe being driven by Melton pulled out to go around another car. The cars, almost totally demolished, crashed head-on.

None of the occupants of the LaSalle car were seriously hurt, it is believed, although most of them received cuts and bruises.

KILLED INSTANTLY

It is thought that one of the Melton daughters was almost instantly killed. She was dead when C. C. Clark arrived at the scene to take the injured to Berger hospital.

LABOR DEMANDS CANDIDATE AID

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The American Federation of Labor, militantly leaping into the fall campaign, has demanded candidates for congress promise to support specific legislation, including the 30-hour week and 6-hour day.

The action aroused consternation today among both Democratic and Republican candidates, including many who have had labor's endorsement for years.

A pledge of support is demanded as the price of labor's aid.

Who Will Win Herald's Campaign? Is Live Topic

"I wonder who will win first prize in The Herald's Salesmanship Club." On the street, in theatre lobbies, at social functions and most everywhere one hears this question discussed. Many inquiries come to the office every day about how the various members are progressing.

When one stops to consider the great value of the prizes at stake, and the fact that all members of the club are working feverishly in what might be termed a "neck and neck" race for first honors, there is small wonder that public interest is at a high pitch.

The race at the present time is close, in fact it is probably one of the closest in the campaign manager's experience. It tightened up considerably last week with the result that some of the members who had shown only ordinary strength have forged toward the top and at the present time threaten the position of the

PROGRESSIVES ARE TRAILING

Democrats Far Ahead In Wisconsin; Bilboa Victorious In South.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 19.—With the New LaFollette Progressive party trailing, the Democratic ticket headed by Gov. Alfred C. Schmedeman, staunch supporter of the New Deal, today was piling up the heaviest vote in Wisconsin's four-party primary election.

In many sections, Schmedeman, the 73-year-old governor, polled more votes in yesterday's primary than the Republican and Progressive party tickets combined.

In its first test of the ballot boxes the Progressive party headed by United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette and his brother, former Gov. Philip LaFollette, trailed both the Republican and Democratic parties in early returns. The LaFollettes and their supporters broke away from the Republican party last summer to form the leftist third party.

As the tabulation progressed, however, the Progressive party was counting an increasing number of votes.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 19.—The state of Mississippi, where cotton is king, today hailed the rise of a new member of the radical school of politics sponsored by United States Senator Huey P. Long.

By a plurality of approximately 4,500 votes of the Delta country went Theodore G. Bilbo, twice governor, champion of the common people, to the United States senate in Tuesday's Democratic primary runoff, climax of a bitterly fought four-month campaign.

The dynamic stormy petrel of the cotton rows succeeds Hubert D. Stephens, veteran of 22 years in congress, who sought a third term as Mississippi's junior senator on a single platform of "Standing by Roosevelt and the New Deal."

Kenmore Youths Jailed For Theft In Barberton; To Be Returned.

A "blind" search started Tuesday noon by Police Officer William McCrady and Sheriff Charles Radcliff today had resulted in the capture of two Kenmore, O., youths and their stolen car, taken from Barberton, O., early this week.

Barberton authorities came here this afternoon to return the youths, Russell Flaker, 16, of 944 Kenmore-st., and Patrick Donahue, 17, of 2238 12th-st., both of Kenmore, for stealing a Willys-Knight sedan belonging to F. L. Ayers, of 211 Second-st., Barberton.

The tip which started the search for the youths came to police headquarters yesterday noon when two corn-cutters reported that the two men were at the Scioto river bridge shooting. They looked suspicious, the corn-cutters reported.

Before the search started, however, the men had left the spot. Sheriff Radcliff and Officer McCrady started on a general search of the town. About 2:30 p. m. while driving down N. Scioto-st., the officers spied two youths asleep in the yard of the residence of Bryce Briggs. Questioned, the young men gave the names of John Williams and Russell Watson and said their homes were in New York City.

Further grilling, however, brought admissions from the youths that they had taken the car in Barberton and after arriving in Circleville had parked it on S. Washington-st., near the Sears and Nichols factory. The car was found and brought to the police station.

APRON HANGS 12-MONTH-OLD BOY

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—Playing with one of his father's bakery aprons today had cost the life of 12-month-old Donald Allen Yuengst here.

The child strangled on an apron string while playing in the back yard of his home. He was found dead by his mother, Mrs. Fred Yuengst who had left him only a minute or so before to get a basket of clothes.

ROWE, DETROIT STAR PITCHER, PREY OF GANG?

Woman, Reported Held by Gangsters, Tells of Conversation

GIRL OBJECT, TOO

Report, However, Scouted By City's Police

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Police of Detroit and Pontiac were anxious and puzzled today over what may be a plot to kidnap Lynnwood Schoolboy Rowe, ace pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, or his pretty sweetheart, Edna May Skinner.

Police of both cities frankly expressed their doubt but quietly laid plans to guard the Tiger team against any "snatch" attempts.

The scare originated in the story of Mrs. Viola Talbot, 27, of Detroit, who came to Pontiac police headquarters last night, sobbing and hysterical, and said she had been kidnapped in Detroit.

Mrs. Talbot said she was held prisoner, blindfolded, for several hours somewhere near Pontiac and then released on a Pontiac street. During her captivity, she said, her captors continually talked of "the Rowe job," and how much money could be made out of Rowe.

Mrs. Talbot said she was waiting for a traffic light to change on Gratiot avenue in downtown Detroit yesterday afternoon, when a well-dressed man approached and stood beside her.

TELLS OF ABDUCTION

"Just as the light changed," she said, "a big car stopped in front of us. A man swung out of the front seat, pointed a gun at the man standing beside me, and ordered him to get into the car. Then a woman stuck her head out of the rear window and said: 'get that girl. She's seen too much.'"

"The man with the gun ordered me into the car."

Mrs. Talbot then related how the woman blindfolded her with a scarf while the gunman and the man he had captured began to talk.

"The man with the gun accused the man who had stood beside me of 'getting cold feet in that stick' (Continued on Page Five)

NEW SENSATION IN FIRE PROBE

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—One of the most sensational stories yet heard in the federal inquiry into the Morro Castle disaster was related by a pretty, 23-year-old girl here today.

Miss Doris Wacker, 225 Union-ave, Roselle Park, N. J., a passenger on the ill-fated luxury liner, told the department of commerce investigating board that she saw the fire first in the writing room of the ship at about 2:45 a. m., when it was confined to that room alone.

Three stewards were then throwing buckets of something on the fire, she said, but they did not close the fire-screen doors which would have prevented the flames from spreading outside the room.

DONAHEY "STEALS SHOW" AS DEMOCRATS OF OHIO RALLY

By PAT J. KIRWIN
An enthusiasm that causes one to shout and shriek until the voice is stifled and applaud until one's hands are blistered, swept over the Democratic state convention assembled in Columbus Tuesday, and according to old time observers, party harmony in Ohio was never more highly exemplified.

One could not be among that group of 10,000 militant Democrats long, until he felt the urge to shout for joy.

It was truly an old time Democratic rally. An enthusiasm that surprised the most optimistic and a pervading feeling of harmony that is seldom seen in a convention following a bitterly-fought primary, reigned supreme.

SEWING MACHINE 'RACKET' PROBED

Police, Wednesday, were attempting to trail some men who have been allegedly working a sewing machine "racket."

It seems that the men came here "picking up" sewing machines for repairs. They made their appearance last week and were to have returned Monday. Mrs. Kenneth Lea, W. Mound-st., who gave them her machine, became suspicious, police say, when the men did not return Monday. She called police Wednesday morning and an investigation started.

Whether the plan is a legitimate one or whether it isn't hadn't been ascertained today although police doubted its authenticity.

The men were reported from Lancaster and said they represented a nationally known machine company.

DRAWING OF ARMORY TO WIN CASH PRIZE

A plan to induce drawing among youths studying vocational agriculture in Walnut, Jackson and Pickaway-twp schools has been put into effect by county school heads with prizes of $5, $2 and $1 offered.

Mechanical drawings are being made by the students of the armory to show spacing for the various schools during the Pumpkin Show displays. All drawings must be in the hands of school officials not later than next Monday at which time they will be judged. The winning drawing besides gaining first prize will be reproduced and sent to the various schools to help simplify arranging exhibits.

SECRETARY TO SPEAK ON FEDERAL POLICIES

Brought Here By Farm Bureau to Address Opening Day Crowd

TO AVOID POLITICS

Democratic Club to Hear Throckmorton

Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, will speak before a Pumpkin Show throng on Wednesday, Oct. 3, the opening day of the 1934 event, it was announced today by F. K. Blair, Pickaway-co farm agent.

Mr. Wallace is being brought here by the farm bureau.

According to tentative plans the farm expert will speak at 7 p. m. at a location not yet determined. It is believed that every Pumpkin Show activity will be stopped during the course of his address.

TO TALK OF PROGRAM

The farm bureau stated emphatically that Mr. Wallace would not deliver a political address. One farm bureau leader said: "He is coming here to acquaint the people of Circleville, Pickaway-co, and other surrounding counties whom we expect here, of the operation of the AAA and of the government's agricultural plans for the future."

Although it has been reported in Washington, D. C., that the agricultural secretary would take the stump in the 11th district in the interest of the candidacy of Congressman Mell G. Underwood, his visit is not for that purpose, his sponsors declared in announcing the date he will speak.

The farm bureau could not pick a more strategic time to bring Mr. Wallace to this county. Hundreds of farmers will undoubtedly be attracted to the opening day of the Pumpkin Show by Mr. Wallace's presence.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB TO HEAR D. THROCKMORTON

Dean C. Throckmorton, of Columbus, state central committee man from Franklin-co and a member of the Columbus civil service commission, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Pickaway-co Democratic club next Tuesday evening, it was announced today.

A full attendance of club members and other Democrats is expected at the meeting, which is expected to be the largest since organization of the group a month ago.

Mr. Throckmorton, an ardent Democrat, is an able speaker and has been associated with the Ohio Democratic party for a number of years. He played an important role in the state Democratic convention, held in Columbus Monday and Tuesday, in serving as chairman of the rules committee.

A program committee composed of L. T. Shaner, David Courtright, Ernie Weiler, and Pat J. Kirwin, are making arrangements for next Tuesday's meeting, which will be held in the court room.

JUSTUS FUNERAL IS THURSDAY AT 2:30

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the home in Jackson-twp for Hazel Justus, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Justus, who died Tuesday in Berger hospital. Rev. E. S. Toensmeier will officiate with interment in Forest cemetery by M. S. Rinehart.

The body is to be taken to the Justus home this evening where friends may call.

Mason, Walters For Chaplain; Schwarz, Will for Treasurer

Henry Mason and John Walters are candidates for the office of chaplain of Howard Hall post, American Legion, instead of treasurer as announced in Tuesday's Herald.

C. C. Schwarz and Clark Will have been nominated for treasurer. The annual election with Frank Littleton and Alva May named for commander will be held this evening in the post rooms.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. NEFF, 35

Wife of Elza Neff, and Mother of Five Children Dies in Hospital.

Mrs. Minnie Edna Neff, aged 35, wife of Elza Neff, of near Pherson, died in Berger hospital at 8 p. m. Tuesday of a form of blood poisoning. Three blood transfusions were administered Mrs. Neff but they proved of no avail.

Besides her husband she is survived by five children. Orren, Lawrence, Paul, Lewis and Marian, the latter two being twins; her father, George Fox, and the following brothers and sisters, Lawrence, Otto and Arthur, Columbus; Mrs. W. M. Davis, Lancaster; Miss Mildred, Mrs. Mazie Caskey, and Mrs. Helen Eaton, Columbus. Her mother, Mrs. Lina Brown Fox, passed away in 1932. Mrs. Neff's death in the second in her family in 29 years.

She was born in Hocking-co Feb. 2, 1899.

The funeral will be Thursday at 2 p. m. at Pherson with Rev. Ensley officiating. Burial in Springlawn cemetery, Williamsport, is in charge of C. E. Hill.

SEARCH FOR AGED JOHN GOFF ENDED

John Goff, of Walnut-st., 85-year-old Civil War veteran, was back home today apparently none the worse after a 24-hour trip to the Scioto river bottoms during which time members of his family frantically searched for him.

Costless and with a basket in his hand, Mr. Goff left home Tuesday noon on a trip to gather some elderberries. He was last seen walking down the Pennsylvania railroad tracks in the southeastern part of the city.

When he failed to return last night it was feared he had fallen in the river and drowned. His explanation was that he had gone to sleep, spending the night in the bottoms, then resuming his berry-picking at daybreak.

2 RUNAWAY BOYS RETURNED HOME

Two persistent runaways were captured by Highway Patrolman F. J. Crume on Route 23, south of the city, Tuesday afternoon when David Patton, 14, of 141 W. 11th-ave, and Robert McNeal, 14, of 2357 Glenmore-ave, both of Columbus, were taken in custody.

Only Monday the youths were returned from Richmond, Ind., after running away from home. Parents of the lads came here today to take them home again.

FOLLOWED LAW AVERS HOPPLE IN RATE FIGHT

Did Not Give Decision Merely To Favor Municipal Plant,
He Says.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 19.—The municipal electric plant of Oberlin village has been saved, at least temporarily, from the undercutting competition of a privately-owned utility by the state public utilities commission, but the commission's decision was according to law, and not favoritism toward a publicly-owned plant.

That was made plain today when E. J. Hopple, chairman of the public utilities commission, told the International News Service that the commission felt that every utility was open to fair competition, but that the law prevented selling a utility's service below cost to destroy a rival company.

LOW RATE REFUSED

Hopple, on Monday ruled that the Ohio Electric Power Co. could not sell electricity in Oberlin at a rate beginning at 4½ cents for the first 20 kilowatt hours because under such a rate it would lose nearly $300 annually in direct operating costs.

A newly-established muni plant in Oberlin is selling electricity there beginning at five cents.

Two courses yet remain open whereby the Ohio Electric Power Co. may yet compete with the Oberlin plant. They may file a duplicate rate as that now charged by the Oberlin system, or they may appeal the commission's decision to the supreme court.

Hopple said that if the company files an application to institute a five cent rate similar to that now charged by the municipal plant it will probably be granted without further controversy, for such a rate would more than make up the $300 annual deficit which the commission found would result if the company held to its 4½ cent plan.

And if the company goes with the case to the supreme court, Hopple is not sure that the judges will uphold the commission's decision.

The company throughout the recent hearings contended that the utility commission had no jurisdiction in the case because the company and the village of Oberlin in 1927 signed a 10-year contract fixing a maximum rate which the company might charge while operating in the village.

representing the Ohio Electric Power Co., said that since the rate was fixed by contract, the commission had no authority to adjudicate the rates as it would have had the rate been fixed by municipal ordinance.

"There is a close legal question involved," Hopple admitted. "The law does not say definitely that the section providing for selling power at less than cost applies to rates fixed by contract."

"I believe it does logically, and I overruled the objections of the power company on the point."

"Whether or not the courts will uphold me, I do not know."

pital. G. H. Adkins, E. Main-st., who was driving by the scene, brought several of the injured to the hospital.

Mr. Melton was severely cut about the head and face, while one of his daughters, either Eva or Garnett, was badly crushed about the head.

The dead woman was described as about 22 years old, five feet six inches tall, dark hair and blue eyes. It is believed she died of a fractured skull. She also had a broken jaw and cuts on the chin.

Authorities at the Orient institution, notified of the accident by The Herald, said Mr. Melton and daughter, Mildred, were both employed at the farm and had secured several days vacation to go to West Virginia. They were to return two of Melton's daughters, Garnett and Eva, to Orient for a vacation, it is believed.

Five of the injured were brought to the hospital, although the two Brim sisters were not seriously hurt. They received cuts and bruises about the face.

SIX UNINJURED

The six other occupants of the LaSalle car, the two Brim brothers, their two friends and two maids, Florence Harrison and Florence Stubbs, all of Upper Arlington, escaped uninjured with the exception of shock and bruises.

The entire hospital staff was called into service to take care of the injured. Dr. H. D. Jackson and Dr. E. S. Shane were working with the injured.

PILOT LANDS PLANE WITHOUT WHEELS, SEVEN UNINJURED

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 19.—Five passengers and a co-pilot owed their lives today to the coolness and skill of Pilot Melford B. Freeburg in safely landing a Northwest Airlines passenger plane without its wheels.

For an hour and a half Pilot Freeburg circled the air liner above the airport here last night, unable to move the retractable landing gear, folded up under the ship.

Finally he dumped the gasoline load and, circling low over the field dotted with fire-fighting equipment and ambulances summoned to the scene, swung the plane down to a landing.

The huge ship bounced to a three-point contact with the ground, scraped along, and came to a stop virtually undamaged except for a bent propeller and scratches on the under surface of the fuselage.

IOWA STRIKE ENDS RESTORING POWER SERVICE TO CITY

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 19.—Complete light and power service was resumed in Des Moines today after a strike of mechanical workers of the Des Moines Electric Light company and the Iowa Power and Light company, affiliated organizations, had shut off power facilities and most of the electricity service during the early morning hours.

Police headquarters reported complete service was restored at 6:30 a. m., but were not advised whether the action was the result of a "truce" or a permanent solution of the strike.

D. A. R. Holds First Meeting at Mound City

The initial meeting of the 1934-1935 calendar year of Pickaway Plains chapter Daughters of the American Revolution was held in a picturesque spot, Tuesday afternoon.

Some thirty members and guests journeyed to the historical site, Mound City park, near Chillicothe, for the 4 p. m. session.

It was a typical autumn day and arriving guests found two long tables prepared by the hostess committee of which Miss Charlotte Phelps was chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. Beryl Stevenson, Mrs. Paul A. Johnson, Mrs. Emmitt L. Crist and Mrs. Charles Pugsley.

Mrs. Harry J. Dunlap, agent of the local chapter, held a brief business session. Devotional services were conducted by Mrs. C. C. Watts, chaplain. Minutes were read by Mrs. Charles Gerhardt, recording secretary.

The district D. A. R. meeting was announced for Columbus, Sept. 26.

An article relative to Constitution Day was read by Mrs. Beryl Stevenson. The chapter voted to subscribe to a fund for a tablet honoring Mrs. Asa Messenger, state D. A. R. regent, and to purchase two additional genealogical volumes for the library.

It was decided that Wednesday afternoon and evening of Pumpkin Show week, the organization would assume charge of the booth of the Benevolent society.

Mrs. Vernon Barrett, of Nathaniel Massie chapter D. A. R., Chillicothe, was introduced by Mrs. Dunlap. She responded with greetings.

Prof. Shetrone of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society gave an address on The Ohio Mounds. Prof. Shetrone was chiefly responsible for the preservation and restoration of Mound City park.

LOGAN ELM GRANGE HAS INSPECTION

Annual inspection of Logan Elm Grange was held Tuesday evening at the Pickaway-twp school. Turney Glick, county deputy, was the inspecting officer and during the degree work a tableau on Spirit of Hope was given by Mrs. George Jury with Mrs. Cliff Miller as soloist.

The program was in charge of the lecturer, Mrs. G. D. Bradley, and consisted of a violin solo by Mrs. Ralph Boggs; demonstration of "Fitting a Sheep for Show" by Charles Kreisel and Weldon Leist; a talk by Renick W. Dunlap; vocal solo by Ray Beery; pantomime, "And the Lamp Went Out," with Alta Bartley, Mr. and Mrs. John Kerns and Roger Jury as characters; demonstration of setting a table by Marvina Pontius.

About seventy members enjoyed the meeting and the refreshments served at its close under the chairmanship of Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach.

HUFF-TEEGARDIN NUPITALS ANNOUNCED

Miss Mercedes Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Huff of Columbus, and Mr. Glenn Teegardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Teegardin of Euclid, were united in marriage Monday morning in Chicago.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Louis W. Sherwin, a friend of the bride's family, at 9 o'clock at the Highland park Presbyterian church. The couple was unattended.

The bride wore a brown traveling suit, trimmed with brown lapin fur with brown accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Teegardin are spending several days in St. Paul, Minn., before going to Louisville, Ky., where they will reside. Mr. Teegardin is associated with the Federal Land bank in Louisville.

The bride attended Ohio State university and is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Teegardin, a graduate of Ohio State, is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Miss Mary Crist and Gladden Troutman gave talks on their trip through the western states this summer and the remainder of the evening was spent in games and contests in charge of Miss Barch.

A wicker and marshmallow roast was then enjoyed by the group. Miss Barch was assisted by the league's September refreshment committee.

Enroute home from Miami university, Oxford, where they accompanied their son, John, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Spence, 3199 Whitehome-rd., Cleveland Heights, are guests Wednesday and Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Johnson, Northridge-rd.

The various habits and customs of the Mound Builders were related and the questions, "Who were the Mound Builders?" and "What happened to them?" were explicitly dealt with by the speaker.

At the conclusion of the address a picnic supper was enjoyed near the shelter house of the park.

DINNER PARTY TUESDAY HONORS HOUSE GUEST

Complimenting her house guest, Miss Iris Wennstrom of Stockholm, Sweden, Miss Nolle Oesterle entertained with a dinner bridge party at her home near Ashville Tuesday evening.

Miss Wennstrom, who is with the Swedish consular service, is now located in New York City, and makes her home at the Hotel Shelton. She came Sunday to be Miss Oesterle's house guest for two weeks.

Miss Wennstrom was formerly in Washington D. C., as secretary to the minister from Sweden, and served in consular work in Finland, Germany and Great Britain before coming to the United States. She and her hostess met several years ago when the latter was located in Washington.

Attractive centerpieces of dwarf marigolds were used on the prettily appointed small tables for the dinner.

Covers were laid for Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. Martin Cromley, Miss Helen Bowers, Miss Florence Brown, Miss Louise Hay and Miss Eliza Plum of Ashville; Miss Ruth Gerhardt of Washington C. H.; Mrs. A. L. Everitt of Delaware; Mrs. A. M. Hamilton and Mrs. Frank Barnhill of Marion; Mrs. W. Covert Hardy, Mrs. Walter D. Krause, Mrs. Edgar Littlefield, Mrs. E. J. Staton, Miss Dorothea Conrad, Miss Edith Dinkin, Miss Jessie Doersam, Miss Dorothy King, Miss Elizabeth Mohr, Miss Jean James, Miss Lorna Richard, Miss Marjorie West, Miss Margaret Westervelt, Miss Alma Fourman and Miss Cornelia Moore James of Columbus.

LUTHER LEAGUE MEETS AT MISS BARCH'S HOME

Forty members and guests of the Luther League of Trinity Lutheran church gathered at the home of Miss Annabelle Barch, Jackson-twp, Tuesday evening for their September session.

Rev. George L. Troutman, president, was in charge of the business meeting during which Miss Barch was appointed to represent the local league at the fall meeting of the Scioto and Hocking Valley Luther League association to be held Oct. 21 at St. Paul. Miss Barch will have the topic, "Spiritualism," to discuss. Plans were made for a Halloween party in October. The date will be announced later.

Miss Mary Crist and Gladden Troutman gave talks on their trip through the western states this summer and the remainder of the evening was spent in games and contests in charge of Miss Barch.

A wicker and marshmallow roast was then enjoyed by the group. Miss Barch was assisted by the league's September refreshment committee.

Bicycles Again Becoming Popular in the U. S.

America is going back to bicycles again and the highways and byways virtually neglected by the cyclists since the turn of the present century are filling again with long lines of speeding, hunch-backed pedallers weaving in and out of motor traffic. The gasoline engine buggy was the factor which took a death dealing swipe at the tandems and single seaters. The U. S. wheel industry, which in 1899 manufactured and sold over a million bikes, moved constantly towards "extinction" until depression days which brought a renewed popularity in the vehicles, mainly because bikes are much cheaper to operate than automobiles. Europe has long clung to the wheel for transportation. Holland, for example, with a population of less than 9,000,000, boasts of almost 3,000,000 single-se-

AT D. U. V. CONVENTION MRS. MILLER TO PRESIDE

Mrs. L. E. Miller, Watt-st, president of district No. 6 of the Daughters of the Union Veterans, will preside at the district's convention to be held Wednesday, Oct. 10, at Memorial hall with members of the Catherine Wofley Hedges tent as hostesses. Eleven tents will be represented at this meeting.

Plans for the convention were made at the regular meeting of the local tent held Tuesday evening in the Post room with about twenty five members present. Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, tent president, was in charge of the meeting.

MRS. BOGGS ENTERTAINS CARD CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Irvin Boggs, S. Court-st, assembled two tables of bridge at her home, Tuesday evening, for an interesting game of contract. Guests were members of her club and Mrs. William Avis.

Mrs. Ed Mason received high score award when tallies were added.

Next week Mrs. I. N. Abernethy, S. Court-st, will be hostess to the club.

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Members of her two table bridge club were guests of Miss Mary Ellen Phillips, Pinckney-st, Tuesday evening, when she entertained with a party at the American hotel coffee shop.

When tallies were added at the conclusion of the interesting game high score favors were presented Miss Katherine Firsich and Mrs. Wendell Boyer.

A delicious salad course was served after the game.

Next week the club will meet with Miss Iola Wentworth, W. Union-st.

Miss Mary Curtin, S. Scioto-st, left Tuesday for Nashville, Tenn., where she will be a freshman at Ward Belmont college.

Calendar

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Imler, E. Main-st, returned Tuesday evening from a three weeks' trip. They visited with Mr. Imler's son, Dr. Fern Imler and Mrs. Imler in Kansas City, Mo., and spent a week in White Cloud, Kansas, with Mrs. Imler's niece, Mrs. William Bevins and Mr. Bevins.

Gerald Marion Jr., of Toledo, is visiting his grandfather, Walter Marion and Mr. and Mrs. George Marion, Lancaster-pk.

maintain a perfect figure by proper eating

There is style in clothes, styles in shoes, style in hair dress . . . and style in a perfect figure.

The latter can be attained and maintained by proper eating . . . the observance of a regular diet . . . and all diets include the liberal use of bread in some form.

But there are differences in bread just as there are differences in styles.

SO, for the latest in styles attend The Herald's Style Revue at the Cliftona Thursday and Friday evenings—and for the BEST in Breads serve Wallace's.

WALLACE'S Breads for years have been a factor in the building of health in bodies—it is a bread of supreme flavor, loaded with energy-giving starches, muscle-building proteins, and bone-building minerals, the qualities so essential to the health of everyone.

Impressionable Youth

SCIENTISTS seem to agree on one thing and that is that children are impressionable.

They imitate whatever fascinates them and accept their idols as they find them. Science claims environment is everything.

All who have observed the ways of children will go along with the scientific gentlemen in this to a certain point only. The layman will not jump to such conclusions as were expounded at the American Psychological Association's meeting.

The association published it as a fact that boys become explorers, animal trainers, gangsters and ladies' men because they go to the movies. True boys will leave the theater with visions of being a cowboy or Don Juan or artist, but the next day they will watch a different sort of movie and revise all their dreams. There is too great a variety of heroes and scoundrels on the silver screen for the adolescent boy or girl to imitate one type very long. Even the Greta Garbo emulators change the cut and comb of their hair from time to time.

Spokesmen for the association came nearer to hitting the nail on the head when they went into the subject of adolescent honesty. Their deduction that 54 per cent of school children will not cheat is probably as accurate an estimate as it is possible to make. Nor should the adult world be shocked at this report. Where there is so little adult responsibility and integrity one cannot expect perfection in youth.

If Japan keeps on, she can soon tell the world that "a ring of enemies" forces her to strike in defense of the fatherland.

The Munitions Racket

WHEN the United States senate started investigating munitions it started a ripple which will circle the globe. International repercussions were heard almost immediately.

What will come of it none can say. There is no way of telling where such an inquiry will stop. The only certainty seems to be that the taxpayers of the world will be a little more loath to accept as gospel truth armament and national defense propaganda.

Among the possibilities are government munitions monopolies in some countries. The Labor and Liberal parties in England are demanding a parliamentary inquiry into the arms traffic and proposing government ownership of all munitions factories.

Were all governments to prohibit the private manufacture and sale of munitions there would be fewer border wars in South America and the Balkans and fewer civil wars and revolutions. Munitions manufacturers and their foreign representatives must sell their wares even though they must start a war or revolution to make business.

Should this country come to a government munitions monopoly it is doubtful that the job-hungry politicians would prove the super-salesmen the senate investigation has uncovered in the submarine, powder and arms industries.

We believe, until Mr. Hoover's magazine article was published, Al Smith held the record for high pay for literary effort. We are curious, therefore, to know the word rate Mr. Hoover received and suppose the information soon will be forthcoming.

Now that an American loan of $200,000,000 has been refused Russia, the Soviet probably has greater contempt than ever before for capitalism.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

"Please don't go," cried Diane. "Don't leave me alone with him. You couldn't do such a thing."

Jeff took a step toward his henchman. "Get it!"

Lem, grinning, bowed toward the girl with exaggerated courtesy. "You can see how hit is, miss. We uns air jest natchally bound to do like Jeff says."

He was turning to go when Jeff halted him with: "You done told us as how you could run an automobile, didn't you, Lem?"

"Sure did, boss."

"Wal, then, you can run that machine what's standin' in front of the house into the barn. Diane an' me ain't goin' to need hit tonight."

When Lem was gone Jeff continued to Diane:

"Mebbe you can see now who's 'ninin' things 'round these parts, 'a-gein' now?"

If Ann Haskel knows what's good for her, she ain't never goin' to show up in this neighborhood no more. From now on this year's goin' to be a man's country."

Assuring the Invalid of Comfort

Authority Tells How to Care for Person Who Is Bedridden

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States senator from New York

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

PERSONS CONFINED to bed because of illness or physical disability often become afflicted with what is known as "bed sores."

This is a very annoying condition and if neglected may lead to serious infection of the skin.

Bed sores can be prevented when the skin of the invalid is properly cared for and the necessary precautions taken to prevent irritation.

Bear in mind that the invalid has poor resistance against disease and the tone of the skin is below par.

Hence friction and irritation of the elbows, knees and buttocks may give rise to bed sores.

Every effort should be made to avoid irritation of the skin. The sheets of the bed should be soft and free from wrinkles and excess starch.

This precaution is especially necessary for those persons who have sensitive skins. Additional protection is afforded by the use of soft pads and cushions to those parts of the body which are constantly in contact with the bed linen.

A frequent change of position, with change of the pillow, is helpful.

Preventive Methods

The patient should be bathed as frequently as possible with lukewarm water and a pure, white soap, preferably castile.

Following this, an alcohol sponge may be given. The parts should be dried by patting and not rubbing.

The value of dusting powder in the prevention of bed sores cannot be over-emphasized. Do not use a heavy or coarse powder. An excellent powder can be made by mixing equal parts of zinc stearate, corn starch and any good dusting powder.

Frequent change of position is often difficult, especially for the person at home who is invalided because of a fracture of the arm or leg.

As a rule the plaster cast is cumbersome and hinders movement of the patient. Often the afflicted person hesitates to move because of pain or fear of dislocating the broken limb.

Yet movement is imperative if bed sores are to be avoided. With care and practice the patient can be moved and the parts bathed and powdered.

A change of Beds

A good plan is to alternate beds when the condition of the patient permits his being moved.

Of course, this should be undertaken only by a strong member of the household in order to avoid the danger of dropping or jarring the patient. This is easily done by moving two beds close together and rolling or lifting the patient from one to the other.

This procedure permits change of mattress and bedding and, in addition, allows the invalid a change that is beneficial to the muscles and skin.

Inattention to hygiene is often the underlying cause of infected, painful bed sores. In cases of diarrhea and other intestinal disorders the excreta contains irritating and exfoliating substances which, if allowed to come in contact with the skin, leads to the irritating sores.

Every effort must be made to guard against this occurrence.

Proper care and cleanliness of the bedridden patient is of great importance. When this is overlooked convalescence is retarded.

The few suggestions I have outlined will be helpful in preventing this distressing complication.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary (Armstrong) Myers, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Strawser Armstrong, was born at Bainbridge, Ohio, Aug. 24, 1875.

Departed this life, Sept. 12, at her home on Fairview-ave. On July 24, 1894 she was united in marriage to Daniel Myers of this city.

To this union was born seven children. One preceded her in death. Those left to mourn their loss are her husband, son George T. Myers, five daughters, Mrs. Lulu Conkle, Mrs. Anna Purcell of this city; Etta and Helen Myers at home; Mrs. Marcella Finney of Coshocton. Of her immediate family, three brothers, George Armstrong of this city; Edward of Chillicothe; Charles of Bainbridge.

Mrs. Myers was a member of the United Brethren church, and attended when able. Mrs. Myers had been an invalid for 20 years.

Through all her sickness she was always cheerful and kind, always greeted her neighbors with a smile. She will be sadly missed by all who knew her.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere and heart felt thanks to friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and after the death of wife and mother. Also to Rev. Metzler for his consoling words, and M. S. Rinehart for his efficient service and all those who sent the beautiful floral offerings, the singers for their services.

BURNED SHIP RETAINS SECRET

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 19.—If ever the real story of what caused the Morro Castle fire, which took 132 lives, is told it will have to be told by the survivors. The wrecked hulk of the $5,500,000 luxury liner will never tell.

Admitting this, Dickerson N. Hoover, chairman of the United States department of commerce inquiry into the disaster today was to resume his questioning of witnesses in New York.

Accompanied by four other officials, Mr. Hoover yesterday boarded the rust-red hulk of the vessel, beached a stone's throw off the board walk here, to see for himself where the fire started and what caused it. Weary and covered with rust, Hoover came off after four hours on the boat. He said:

ALL DESTROYED

"The entire interior of the ship is a shambles. It is all burned—the library, the cargo holds, the bridge, the records, everything. We cannot tell where the fire started, or how. All we could tell was the fire burned with terrible intensity throughout the ship."

"We gained a better picture of the entire situation, however, and found evidence to support several leads which have been given us. We will recall Acting Captain Warrms and other officers of the ship for questioning."

Hoover said, however, he would not recall the ship's officer until after he had finished questioning other witnesses. He said he would call George I. Alagna and Charles Maki, second and third radio officers today.

Alagna, variously termed "hero," "radical" and "trouble maker" thus far in the investigation is expected to offer highly important testimony about the half-hour delay in the sending of the SOS the morning of the holocaust. It was he who acted as messenger between the chief radio operator, who finally sent out the SOS after 30 precious minutes had been wasted, and Acting Captain Warrms, who never has given a clear explanation of this delay.

LIFEBOATS VISITED

Following his inspection of the Morro Castle yesterday, Hoover and his aides travelled down the Jersey shore inspecting the lifeboats which brought some four-score survivors ashore the morning of the tragedy.

It had been charged during the hearing that the buoyancy tanks in these lifeboats had been defective, had been full of holes which were covered only by a coat of paint.

up," she said. "The other one replied: 'Never mind the stickup, we're going after Rowe. I've got it all planned.'"

Several other references were made to the baseball star, Mrs. Talbot said. Once during her imprisonment in what appeared to be a comfortably furnished house or apartment near Pontiac, she said, one of the men, reading in a newspaper that the Tigers had won yesterday's game, exclaimed:

"Boy! Rowe won again. He's a cinch for a lot of dough."

Mrs. Talbot was unharmed, Pontiac police said, when she appeared at police headquarters there, but her clothes were disheveled, and the buttons had been torn off her coat.

WOULD PAY RANSOM

Police, expressed doubt that any plot to kidnap Schoolboy Rowe was afoot but admitted that he would be an ideal "snatch" victim, since the Tigers would probably pay heavily to ransom him for the world series.

Now that it has been discovered that a drug many women are taking for reducing purposes is a high explosive, young men in taking their girl friends autoing would do well to pick roads which are free of bumps.

Granville, unsuccessful candidate for U. S. senator. A brilliant orator and stalwart supporter of the New Deal, the congressman thrilled his listeners with a fact-supported defense of President Roosevelt's recovery program.

Tall and common-looking, Mr. West, a former professor at Denison university, impressed the entire throng with his keen intellect and piercing delivery. "This whole great program," he concluded, "is founded in the heritages of Thomas Jefferson's principles of Democracy."

CITES STEAM-ROLLER

Governor George White, another aspirant to the senatorial nomination, was on the stage, heartily greeting his two rivals and in a speech bristled with humor, said he was sure Congressman West and himself both felt taller after Vic Donahey's steam-roller had passed over them on August 14.

In his short talk, "Vic," hindered quite frequently by the shouts of applause for him, pledged 100 percent support to President Roosevelt, but added that he would never surrender his right to vote as he chose in the interests of his people.

The three Democratic gubernatorial candidates were also on the stage. Lieutenant-Governor Charles Sawyer, of Cincinnati, ably serving as permanent chairman of the convention, was highly applauded by his admirers as was also William G. Pickrel of Dayton, another primary candidate. Both pledged their support to Martin L. Davey's campaign for the governorship. Sawyer and Davey were classmates at Oberlin college 30 years ago, while Pickrel and Sawyer also studied law at the University of Cincinnati, many years ago, it was learned.

Enthusiasm for Mr. Davey, who was smiling most of the time, ranked only next to Mr. Donahey. Possessing a pleasing personality and a clear voice, Davey spoke to the convention as he would to a group of friends. He invited every one to attend his inauguration in Columbus in January.

It was this expressed feeling among candidates themselves that caused members of the convention to be so enthusiastic. A delegation of Pickaway countians was among the group that often felt the urge to shout.

"I have never seen enthusiasm at such a high pitch or witnessed the harmony that I saw today," George G. Adkins, chairman of the Pickaway-co executive committee, and a delegate to the convention declared.

Others attending the convention from this county included Cecil Briggs, of New Holland, chairman of the county central committee, James McLaughlin, president of the Democratic club, L. T. Shaner, who served as assistant sergeant-at-arms in the convention, K. J. Herrmann, T. D. Krinn, John W. Hay, Robert Young, Morris I. Boggs, Charles H. Radcliff, Harry Bartholomew, Harry Denman, Ernie Weiler, John G. Ward, J. C. Rader, Clark K. Hunsicker, and A. L. Wilder.

Birds Win First Series Tilt, 12-6

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 19.—Safely over the first hurdle, the Red Birds started round the turn into the second game with the Minneapolis Millers today with high hopes for the pitching ability of either Ed. Greer or Bud Teachout to bring them the second straight victory in the crucial play-off series in the American Association.

The Birds won the first game here yesterday by a score of 12 to 6 when they knocked off Joe Shaute and Jim Chaplin, two

Miller mound men, for 15 hits, including five doubles and two home runs for a total of 26 bases.

RIGGS, G. MOORE CLOUT

Low Riggs and Gene Moore connected for the circuit clouts.

Jumbo Jim Elliott, who allowed the Millers 13 hits, including two home runs, kept the batters scattered.

The Birds will play at Minneapolis today and Thursday, coming to the Columbus grounds on Sunday to finish the series, with the team winning four games first to represent the Association in the Little World Series against the International League champion.

Jimmy McLarnin Returns to Welterweight Top

In a bruising 15-round battle at Madison Square Garden in New York City, Jimmy McLarnin, re-captured his welterweight crown from Barney Ross, before an audience of 25,000, after the bout had been postponed numerous times because of inclement weather.

TIGERS HANDED PASSING PLAYS

Henry and Speakman Take Turns Heaving Leather; Many See Action.

Pass plays with Don Henry, a southerner, and George Speakman, a southerner, were given to the Tigers when the Tigers, Tuesday evening, by Coach Pete Herberholz.

A long drill with scrimmage part of the time saw the players work to good advantage. Herberholz used several different backfield combinations with Henry, Speakman, Bell, Coleman, Mader, Davis and several others getting a lot of practice. Osborne and Griffiths were on the sidelines with a sprained ankle and a cold respectively.

Big George Roth, only man on the team weighing 200 pounds, was being used at the snapper-back position Tuesday. Grant and Friley, the latter in Osborne's place, held down the ends with the Watts twins at the guard spots.

Faculty Manager E. I. Gephart announced Wednesday that the game with Columbus Academy would start promptly at 3 o'clock Friday with 35 cents and 20 cents the price of admission. Wert and Smith will handle the whistles.

The following week the Tigers will visit Lancaster to play under the lights. Lancaster meets St. Mary's, rival school, this week and it is probable that Coach Herberholz and some of his hopefuls will be in the stands.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

IN SOME towns the ladies take their chow dogs along when they go to the grocery store. If a grocer has got to sell to these ladies to make a living, he better not get too fresh about ordering the dogs out, and he don't.

But one grocer in Chicago was pretty mad when he said to a lady, "Say, lady, do you know that your dog ate five of my best eggs?" "Are you sure they are your best eggs?" "Absolutely!" "Right in from the country, and not storage stuff?" "Oh, the very best ones that we get the highest prices for!" "Oh, well, then I guess it's all right," she says. "I was going to say that if it was some of the storage eggs you left lying around for Cutesy to eat, I'd have to do something about it. But your best eggs are pretty fresh, and I'm sure they won't hurt his little tummy!"

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute. 26-cent drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

YOUTH BIG FACTOR

THE ENTHUSIASM OF YOUTH is one of the biggest factors in the success of the Red Birds—Take, for instance, the first game of the Circleville High school's gridder, Tuesday evening, by Coach Pete Herberholz.

The Birds were much better than the Millers in Tuesday's game and should win today with Greer expected to take up the duties. In fact they should win no matter who takes up the mound chores—Jess Petty will probably go to the hill for the Millers although Walter Tauscher, a right hander, is seen as a logical choice.

Hey you softball team managers—This is rather late but each of you owe John Carle of the Mecca restaurant $2. There was not enough money in the league treasury to finance the banquet since 87 were fed—Mr. Carle even with the $2 from each of you will not make out on the spread he gave the ball players.

ROWE AND GREENBERG

It was Schoolboy Rowe and Hank Greenberg again Tuesday—The hurler blanked the Yankees winning his sixth game of the year from that outfit and lengthened Detroit's lead to seven games—Tickets are now on sale at the Detroit office—Greenberg did his share, too. Red Ruffing was tough for the Yankees but Greenberg broke the deadlock with a smash into the stands with the paths empty—Rowe drove over the other run after a singling outfielder was sacrificed to second to set the stage.

It is said that moderns haven't invented a single new sin, so congress needn't be looking for new sources of revenue.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HAIR AND HAIR TREATMENTS

BALDNESS • DANDRUFF • OILINESS • THINNING HAIR

In the past, tonics and treatments tried to stop hair from falling. That is as useless as trying to stop an animal from shedding! What you must do is make your scalp replace the hair that falls—in short, complete the hair growing cycle. It is on that scientific principle that Charles Nessler's Pro-Ker is based. 30,000 tests have proved that Pro-Ker produces results. Hair for hair, it makes the scalp replace falling hair with new hair. NOME'S HOMELESS CHEERED AS RELIEF SPEEDS NEARER

All Standing Residences Display "Welcome" Sign For Destitute; Movement Underway To Rebuild Alaska Town.

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 19—Every residence in Nome that escaped the disastrous blaze which levelled thirty square blocks in this pioneer Alaska town bore a "welcome" sign today to the nearly 400 homeless and destitute.

Pioneer hospitality cheered those harassed by hunger and a freezing temperature—an omen of the fast approaching arctic winter when Nome will be icebound for eight months.

The stricken populace of Nome's 1,500 residents also was cheered by news that three coast guard cutters of the Bering Sea patrol were enroute here at top speed from Dutch harbor; that the steamer Victoria would arrive from Seattle Sept. 25 with several thousand tons of foodstuffs; that the steamer Dellwood would sail as a special relief ship from Seattle Saturday with 5,000 tons of food.

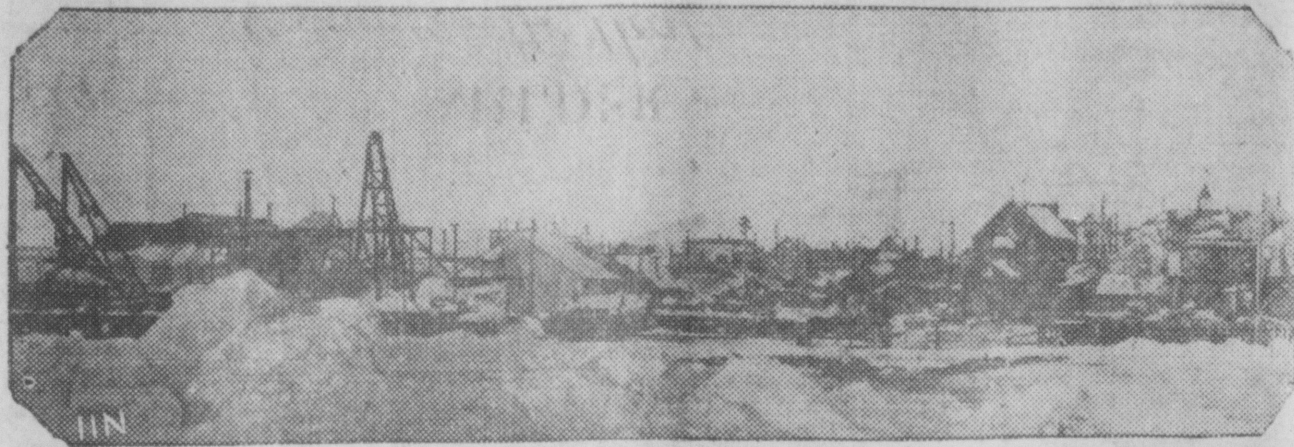

WORKS FOR RELIEF

Dazed and wan residents also managed a warm smile when advised of word from the Alaskan capital, Juneau, that Governor Troy was working out plans for federal relief to alleviate the critical situation before the port of Nome is closed within six weeks by the winter freezeup.

The city council and business men petitioned Washington for direct aid. They officially placed the fire loss at $3,000,000.

hotel, a hospital and a few warehouses along the waterfront, lay in blackened ashes. A section of the residential district in the northern part of the town escaped.

A vigilante patrol of deputies patrolled the fire zone. All pilfering and plundering had ceased. Yesterday bands of drink-crazed halfbreeds ran through the town. A number were rounded up and placed in an improvised jail.

GETTING COLD

City officials and federal authorities were assisting the homeless today in obtaining shelter for the long winter period. The temperature was still going down. Freezing weather added to the misery.

Two restaurants were set up in shacks. Ham and eggs were sold until supplies were exhausted. All grocery stocks saved from the fire were pooled today in one establishment.

The Alaskan road commission was clearing away the debris in the streets today but no immediate plans were being made for reconstruction of the razed area—ten blocks long and three blocks wide.

Nothing can be done until building material arrives. Reconstruction necessarily will be postponed until next spring.

Barberry for Decoration

The deciduous Japanese barberry is widely used as a hedge plant, because, in addition to its hardiness and ease of culture, it is green in summer, tinted in the fall, and strung with gorgeous red berries throughout the winter. It is a native of Japan, says the American Nature association, where it was discovered and sent to the St. Petersburg Botanic gardens by the Russian botanist, Carl Maximowicz, in 1864. The Arnold arboretum, near Boston, received seeds from St. Petersburg in 1875.

offered to support him if he could be assured all patronage in his county.

"If it is necessary for him to make a hog of himself, I don't want his support," said Davey of the anonymous boss. "He can choose for himself whether or not he wants to be a good Democrat and support the ticket."

"If he doesn't choose to do so, he can go to hell so far as I am concerned."

There followed much speculation among the Democrats who heard Davey's pointed declaration as to whom he had in mind.

"Would we be far wrong in assuming you referred to 'Billy' Leonard, of Cincinnati?" reporters asked him.

Without saying he did or did not refer to the Hamilton county leader, Davey replied: "Now, don't draw any conclusions."

Democrats who came to the convention to learn how far Vic Donahay, the U. S. senatorial nominee against Republican Sen. Simeon D. Fess, would go in support of the New Deal, heard him say:

"As a member of the senate of the United States I will honestly support President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the general policies of the administration in every proper manner, but I shall never surrender my independent duty as a representative of the people of this state."

FOLLOWS PLATFORM

Donahay took no part in the platform-framing and in his address he ignored it, saying "my declaration of candidacy issued several months ago is my platform."

"The constitution," he stated, "is the bulwark of our liberties and I will never vote for any measure to deprive the people of their constitutional rights."

He explained that by that remark he did not mean "that there is any occasion for narrowly interpreting the constitution." He promised to work for election of the entire ticket.

U. S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley, who followed Donahay on the list of speakers and who campaigned for the nomination of Congressman Charles West for senator in the primary, after relating the merits of the Roosevelt "New Deal," endeavored to emphasize Donahay's acceptance of it.

"He (Donahay) has made it clear that he desires and intends to do everything he can to uphold the national administration," said Bulkley. "He knows that the New Deal is something more than an emergency remedy for a distressful situation, and that many features of it, and especially its underlying spirit, have come to stay."

Gov. George White, whose former political affection for Bulkley froze when Ohio's Democratic senator came out against his senatorial candidacy in the primary and whose administration Davey, the gubernatorial nominee, assailed frequently in the primary, threw no wrenches into the convention harmony.

UP TO LEGISLATURE

He spoke very briefly, defended his own administration, endorsed the entire Democratic ticket and made no reference to the failure of the platform adopted a few hours previously. It included a specific program for raising new revenues needed by schools and local governments in 1935.

The platform left solution of the troublesome taxation question in the hands of the state legislature, after recognizing the need for new revenue and pledging the party to maximum economy in operating costs of state government.

It advocated the levying of taxes "according to the ability to pay" and proposed to first ascertain the minimum revenue requirement before determining what new taxes shall be levied.

In line with Davey's own program for a "New Deal for Ohio" enunciated by him during the primary campaign, the platform contained a promise of a law permitting monthly tax payments instead of twice a year as at present, and the settlement of taxes delinquent since 1930 on "an easy payment plan" without penalty.

Davey's own proposal of a 2-year moratorium on all municipal and school bonds insofar as the principal is concerned but not the interest drew so much fire in a caucus of the state and congressional candidates that they finally scuttled it. It never reached the convention floor.

But the nominee was reported to have served notice that he would make the bond moratorium a personal issue in the campaign. He told reporters he considered the proposal sound and saw in it a means for subdivisions to obtain necessary operating revenues for the next two years.

MONOPOLY UPHELD

The liquor plank adopted praises the principle of state monopoly control, but sees the need for radical changes in the present laws administration.

H. R. Fuller, Warren, candidate for the state legislature, enlivened the proceedings by insisting on the floor of the convention that he be given a chance to submit his municipally-owned utilities plank to the convention.

Adroit parliamentary maneuvering by the temporary chairman, Congressman West, subdued Fuller, and the delegates sustained the chairman in ruling that the Trumbull countian had not properly submitted his proposal which the resolutions committee had rejected.

Shouting "steam roller," Fuller accused the convention of refusing to go on record for one of President Roosevelt's own proposals, identifying his utilities plank as such.

His proposal was to permit either cities or rural districts dissatisfied with service rendered or rates charged by a utility, to set up, after a referendum vote, its own governmentally-owned and operated service.

In answer to the statement of George S. Myers, Cleveland, resolutions committee chairman, that no new laws were necessary to achieve Fuller's purpose, the latter replied that cities but not rural district under present laws may operate municipally-owned utilities.

For a cigarette to be milder and taste better it must be made of mild, ripe Turkish and home-grown tobaccos,

President Ignored Advice To Shun Yacht Trip To Strike Territory

WASHINGTON — Several close friends of the President did their best to prevent him sailing to the International Yacht Races on the yacht Nourmahal last weekend.

To travel on Vincent Astor's floating palace to Newport, summer mecca of millionaires, while thousands of textile workers were on strike, seemed to them bad politics.

What they thought was especially bad was the fact serious rioting in the textile strike was taking place in Rhode Island just a few miles from Newport.

Solution

Some of these advisers—especially the more adventurous liberals—privately are urging what they assert is a sure-fire solution of the stale-mated textile strike.

These elements place the blame for failure of settlement squarely on the shoulders of the employers. They contend that only the mill operators' refusal to recognize unions is standing up possibility of a peace settlement.

Therefore, the thing to be done they contend, is to "soften up" the employers by indirect Government pressure.

To this end, they propose the bold scheme of the Government renting its mills in strategic strike centers, putting FERA unemployed to work manufacturing cotton cloth for the needy. FERA workers, they say, already are manufacturing mattresses, shoes, furniture. Why not textiles?

The adequacy of this plan faces Administration militants not at all. Probably there is no chance of Roosevelt adopting it; but they declare that similar tactics were responsible for breaking the deadlock in the turbulent Minneapolis teamsters' strike.

They claim that blond, statuesque Floyd Olson, Farmer-Laborite Governor of Minnesota, after exhausting his patience with the employers, finally called up Roosevelt.

"Mr. President," he said, "We are in a bad jam here, getting nowhere fast. The RFC is holding considerable paper of these Minneapolis banks. And these banks have notes of most of these employers."

"Now my suggestion for breaking this thing up is for Jesse Jones to get in touch with these bankers and notify them that the Government does not intend having its loans impaired by employers who are willing to cut their throats to spite their noses."

Olson's friends say positively that Jones did confer with certain Minneapolis bankers.

What, if anything, the RFC chairman said, is not related. But it is a fact that five days after the Olson telephone talk with Roosevelt the employers suddenly reversed themselves, accepting a settlement proposed by Government negotiators which they had previously refused to consider.

Crossed Hoes

The New Deal having gone very Navy-minded, latest innovations are official flags for the Attorney-General and the Postmaster-General, to be flown by all Naval vessels when these officials are aboard.

At which the old-line officers of the Navy have had no little laugh. They point out that the Postmaster-General's flag carries the figure of a pony-express rider, dashing along at a full gallop—over the ocean waves.

The only Cabinet member who hasn't an official Naval flag at present is the Secretary of Agriculture. It ought to be no trouble to devise one, chuckle several admirals. Specifically, they suggest:

Crossed hoes over a row of cotton, and a gravestone inscribed "Three Little Pigs."

GIRL DEAD, MANY HURT IN CRASH

BELL'S SIDING WRECK SCENE AT 1 O'CLOCK

Believe Dead Girl Either Garnett or Eva Melton Of Akron

GOING TO ORIENT

Eight Persons Riding In Second Machine

BULLETIN

The girl killed in the crash was identified as Eva Melton, 30, of Akron.

One girl was killed and three persons were seriously injured in a head-on collision of two automobiles south of Bell's Siding, north of Circleville, about 1 p. m. today.

Twelve persons were involved in the accident and at press time today, Sheriff Charles Radcliff had not completed an investigation.

The dead person has not been identified, although it is believed that she is either Garnett or Eva Melton, of Akron, O. It was learned that Otto Melton, 60, an attendant at the Orient feeble-minded farm, Soloto-twp, accompanied by his three daughters, Edna, Garnett and Eva were to return to the farm today after a journey to Frazersburg, W. Va.

INFORMATION VAGUE

The father and two daughters were sitting in the rumble seat of their Chevrolet coupe. Hospital attendants believe that the dead woman is either the former or latter Miss Lois Brim, of Upper Arlington, driver of a LaSalle sedan, accompanied by her sister, Betty, two brothers, two maids, and two small friends of the brothers, was coming south on Route 23, she said, when the Chevrolet coupe being driven by Melton pulled out to go around another car. The cars, almost totally demolished, crashed head-on.

None of the occupants of the LaSalle car were seriously hurt, it is believed, although most of them received cuts and bruises.

KILLED INSTANTLY

It is thought that one of the Melton daughters was almost instantly killed. She was dead when Fred C. Clark arrived at the scene to take the injured to Berger hospital.

LABOR DEMANDS CANDIDATE AID

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The American Federation of Labor, militantly leaping into the fall campaign, has demanded candidates for congress promise to support specific legislation, including the 30-hour week and 6-hour day.

The action aroused consternation today among both Democratic and Republican candidates, including many who have had labor's endorsement for years.

A pledge of support is demanded at the price of labor's aid.

Who Will Win Herald's Campaign? Is Live Topic

"I wonder who will win first prize in The Herald's Salesmanship Club." On the street, in theatre lobbies, at social functions and most everywhere one hears this question discussed. Many inquiries come to the office every day about how the various members are progressing.

When one stops to consider the great value of the prizes at stake, and the fact that all members of the club are working feverishly in what might be termed a "neck and neck" race for first honors, there is small wonder that public interest is at a high pitch.

The race at the present time is close, in fact it is probably one of the closest in the campaign manager's experience. It tightened up considerably last week with the result that some of the members who had shown only ordinary strength have forged toward the top and at the present time threaten the position of the Democrats Far Ahead In Wisconsin; Bilboa Victorious In South.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 19.—With the New LaFollette Progressive party trailing, the Democratic ticket headed by Gov. Alfred C. Schmedeman, staunch supporter of the New Deal, today was piling up the heaviest vote in Wisconsin's four-party primary election.

In many sections, Schmedeman, the 73-year-old governor, polled more votes in yesterday's primary than the Republican and Progressive party tickets combined.

In its first test of the ballot boxes the Progressive party headed by United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette and his brother, former Gov. Philip LaFollette, trailed both the Republican and Democratic parties in early returns. The LaFollettes and their supporters broke away from the Republican party last summer to form the leftist third party.

As the tabulation progressed, however, the Progressive party was counting an increasing number of votes.

Kenmore Youths Jailed For Theft In Barborton; To Be Returned.

A "blind" search started Tuesday noon by Police Officer William McCrady and Sheriff Charles Radcliff today had resulted in the capture of two Kenmore, O. youths and their stolen car, taken from Barborton, O. early this week.

Barborton authorities came here this afternoon to return the youths, Russell Flaker, 16, of 944 Kenmore-st., and Patrick Donahue, 17, of 2238 12th-st., both of Kenmore, for stealing a Willys-Knight sedan belonging to F. L. Ayers, of 211 Second-st, Barborton.

The tip which started the search for the youths came to police headquarters yesterday noon when two corn-cutters reported that the two men were at the Scioto river bridge shooting. They looked suspicious, the corn-cutters reported.

Before the search started, however, the men had left the spot. Sheriff Radcliff and Officer McCrady started on a general search of the town. About 2:30 p. m. while driving down N. Scioto-st. the officers spotted two youths asleep in the yard of the residence of Bryce Briggs. Questioned, the young men gave the names of John Williams and Russell Watson and said their homes were in New York City.

ROWE, DETROIT STAR PITCHER, PREY OF GANG?

Woman, Reported Held by Gangsters, Tells of Conversation

GIRL OBJECT, TOO

Report, However, Scouted By City's Police

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Police of Detroit and Pontiac were anxious and puzzled today over what may be a plot to kidnap Lynwood Schoolboy Rowe, ace pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, or his pretty sweetheart, Edna May Skinner.

Police of both cities frankly expressed their doubt but quietly laid plans to guard the Tiger team against any "snatch" attempts.

The scare originated in the story of Mrs. Viola Talbot, 27, of Detroit, who came to Pontiac police headquarters last night, sobbing and hysterical, and said she had been kidnapped in Detroit.

Mrs. Talbot said she was held prisoner, blindfolded, for several hours somewhere near Pontiac, and then released on a Pontiac street. During her captivity, she said, her captors continually talked of "the Rowe job," and how much money could be made out of Rowe.

Mrs. Talbot said she was waiting for a traffic light to change on Gratiot avenue in downtown Detroit yesterday afternoon, when a well-dressed man approached and stood beside her.

"Just as the light changed," she said, "a big car stopped in front of us. A man swung out of the front seat, pointed a gun at the man standing beside me, and ordered him to get into the car. Then a woman stuck her head out of the rear window and said: 'Get that girl. She's seen too much.'"

TELLS OF ABDUCTION

"The man with the gun ordered me into the car," Mrs. Talbot then related how the woman blindfolded her with a scarf while the gunman and the man he had captured began to talk.

"The man with the gun accused the man who had stood beside me of 'getting cold feet in that stick' (Continued on Page Five)

NEW SENSATION IN FIRE PROBE

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—One of the most sensational stories yet heard in the federal inquiry into the Morro Castle disaster was related by a pretty, 23-year-old girl here today.

Miss Doris Wacker, 225 Union-ave, Roselle Park, N. J., a passenger on the ill-fated luxury liner, told the department of commerce investigating board that she saw the fire first in the writing room of the ship at about 2:45 a. m., when it was confined to that room alone.

DRAWING OF ARMORY TO WIN CASH PRIZE

A plan to induce drawing among youths studying vocational agriculture in Walnut, Jackson and Pickaway-twp schools has been put into effect by county school heads with prizes of $3, $2 and $1 offered.

Mechanical drawings are being made by the students of the armory to show spacing for the various schools during the Pumpkin Show displays. All drawings must be in the hands of school officials not later than next Monday at which time they will be judged.

JUSTUS FUNERAL IS THURSDAY AT 2:30

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the home in Jackson-twp for Hazel Justus, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Justus, who died Tuesday in Berger hospital. Rev. E. S. Thompson will officiate with interment in Forest cemetery by M. S. Reinhardt.

The body is to be taken to the Justus home this evening where friends may call.

DONAHEY "STEALS SHOW" AS DEMOCRATS OF OHIO RALLY

By PAT J. KIRWIN

An enthusiasm that causes one to shout and shriek until the voice is stifled and applaud until one's hands are blistered, swept over the Democratic state convention assembled in Columbus Tuesday, and according to old time observers, party harmony in Ohio was never more highly exemplified.

One could not be among that group of 10,000 militant Democrats long, until he felt the urge to shout for joy.

It was truly an old time Democratic rally. An enthusiasm that surprised the most optimistic and a pervading feeling of harmony that is seldom seen in a convention following a bitterly-fought primary, reigned supreme.

The popularity of Vic Donahey, Democratic candidate for U. S.

SECRETARY TO SPEAK ON FEDERAL POLICIES

Brought Here By Farm Bureau to Address Opening Day Crowd

TO AVOID POLITICS

Democratic Club to Hear Throckmorton

Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, will speak before a Pumpkin Show throng on Wednesday, Oct. 3, the opening day of the 1934 event, it was announced today by F. K. Blair, Pickaway-co farm agent.

Mr. Wallace is being brought here by the farm bureau.

According to tentative plans the farm expert will speak at 7 p. m. at a location not yet determined. It is believed that every Pumpkin Show activity will be stopped during the course of his address.

TO TALK OF PROGRAM

The farm bureau stated emphatically that Mr. Wallace would not deliver a political address. One farm bureau leader said: "He is coming here to acquaint the people of Circleville, Pickaway-co, and other surrounding counties whom we expect here, of the operation of the AAA and of the government's agricultural plans for the future."

Although it has been reported in Washington, D. C., that the agricultural secretary would take the stump in the 11th district in the interest of the candidacy of Congressman Mell G. Underwood, his visit is not for that purpose, his sponsors declared in announcing the date he will speak.

The farm bureau could not pick a more strategic time to bring Mr. Wallace to this county. Hundreds of farmers will undoubtedly be attracted to the opening day of the Pumpkin Show by Mr. Wallace's presence.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB TO HEAR D. THROCKMORTON

Dean C. Throckmorton, of Columbus, state central committee man from Franklin-co and a member of the Columbus civil service commission, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Pickaway Democratic club next Tuesday evening, it was announced today.

A full attendance of club members and other Democrats is expected at the meeting, which is expected to be the largest since organization of the group a month ago.

Mr. Throckmorton, an ardent Democrat, is an able speaker and has been associated with the Ohio Democratic party for a number of years. He played an important role in the state Democratic convention, held in Columbus Monday and Tuesday, in serving as chairman of the rules committee.

A program committee composed of L. T. Shier, David Courtwright, Ernest W. Shier and Pat J. Kirwin, are making arrangements for next Tuesday's meeting, which will be held in the court room.

Costless and with a basket in his hand, Mr. Goff left home Tuesday noon on a trip to gather some elderberries. He was last seen walking down the Pennsylvania railroad tracks in the southeastern part of the city.

SEARCH FOR AGED JOHN GOFF ENDED

John Goff, of Walnut-st., 83-year-old Civil War veteran, was back home today apparently none the worse after a 24-hour trip to the Scioto river bottoms during which time members of his family frantically searched for him.

2 RUNAWAY BOYS RETURNED HOME

Two persistent runaways were captured by Highway Patrolman E. J. Crane on Route 25, south of the city. Tuesday afternoon when David Patton, 14, of 181 W. 11th-ave., and Robert McNair, 14, of 2357 Glenview-ave., both of Columbus, were taken in custody.

Only Monday the youths were returned from Richmond, Ind., after running away from home. Parents of the lads came here today to take them home again.

HUNT FUGITIVE

County Sheriff's Bryan C. and Bob Armstrong were hunting today for Robert, escaped inmate of the U. S. reformatory, Chillicothe.

Margaret Speer

A double tragedy occurred when an unknown gunman fired a charge of buckshot from a shotgun into the home of Dr. Elliott Speer, headmaster of the Mount Hermon School for Boys at Northfield, Mass. The slugs fatally wounded Dr. Speer and left four-year-old Margaret Speer above, daughter of the educator, fatherless.

SEWING MACHINE 'RACKET' PROBED

Police, Wednesday, were attempting to trail some men who have been allegedly working a sewing machine "racket."

It seems that the men came here "picking up" sewing machines for repairs. They made their appearance last week and were to have returned Monday. Mrs. Kenneth Lea, W. Mount-st., who gave them her machine, became suspicious, police say, when the men did not return Monday. She called police Wednesday morning and an investigation started.

Whether the plan is a legitimate one or whether it isn't hadn't been ascertained today although police doubted its authenticity.

The men were reported from Lancaster and said they represented a nationally known machine company.

DONAHEY POPULAR

senator, impressed the most casual observer. Mention of the name of this common man, who three times served Ohio as governor, brought a thundering applause that was outdistanced only when the name, Roosevelt, was sounded.

Without a doubt, "Vic" was the greatest personage in the convention, at least in the minds of most of the delegates and others in attendance. Last night when he appeared on the stage in the closing sessions, he was smiling and waving his hand to thousands of admirers. Even Mrs. Donahey was applauding him.

A setting of harmony that has never been equalled in the history of state conventions was arranged on the stage at last night's session. Sounding the keynote was Congressman Charles West, of

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. NEFF, 35

Wife of Elza Neff, and Mother of Five Children Dies in Hospital.

Mrs. Minnie Edna Neff, aged 35, wife of Elza Neff, of near Pherson, died in Berger hospital at 8 p. m. Tuesday of a form of blood poisoning. Three blood transfusions were administered Mrs. Neff but they proved of no avail.

Besides her husband she is survived by five children, Orren, Lawrence, Paul, Lewis and Marian, the latter two being twins; her father, George Fox, and the following brothers and sisters, Lawrence, Otto and Arthur, Columbus; Mrs. W. M. Davis, Lancaster; Miss Mildred, Mrs. Mazie Caskey, and Mrs. Helen Eaton, Columbus. Her mother, Mrs. Lina Brown Fox, passed away in 1932. Mrs. Neff's death is the second in her family in 29 years.

She was born in Hocking-co Feb. 2, 1899.

The funeral will be Thursday at 2 p. m. at Pherson with Rev. Ensign officiating. Burial in Springlawn cemetery, Williamsport, is in charge of C. E. Hill.

Here is W. Averill Harriman, New York City banker, and a close friend of President Roosevelt, who has been indicted along with ten other financiers formerly connected with the New York Title and Mortgage company, on charges of issuing alleged deceptive financial statements.

representing the Ohio Electric Power Co., said that since the rate was fixed by contract, the commission had no authority to adjust the rates as it would have had the rate been fixed by municipal ordinance.

"There is a close legal question involved," Hoppie admitted. "The law does not say definitely that the section providing for selling power at less than cost applies to rates fixed by contract."

"I believe it does logically, and I overruled the objections of the power company on the point."

"Whether or not the courts will uphold me, I do not know."

The Sidewalk Test!

SIX months ago we put on the FIRST Sidewalk Test ever tried in Circleville. Then (as nearly every one does on their first Test) we put out a drab rug, one that would not show soil badly. This time we are going one better, with a pretty brighter pattern and a real light ground rug. Be sure to see it on the sidewalk in front of our store, then see it next week in our window when one-half of it has been cleaned—and hand in your bid for it.

BELL'S SIDING

pital. G. H. Adkins, E. Main-st, who was driving by the scene, brought several of the injured to the hospital.

Mr. Melton was severely cut about the head and face, while one of his daughters, either Eva or Garnett, was badly crushed about the head.

The dead woman was described as about 22 years old, five feet six inches tall, dark hair and blue eyes. It is believed she died of a fractured skull. She also had a broken jaw and cuts on the chin.

Authorities at the Orient institution, notified of the accident by The Herald, said Mr. Melton and daughter, Mildred, were both employed at the farm and had secured several days vacation to go to West Virginia. They were to return two of Melton's daughters, Garnett and Eva, to Orient for a vacation, it is believed.

Five of the injured were brought to the hospital, although the two Brim sisters were not seriously hurt. They received cuts and bruises about the face.

SIX UNINJURED

The six other occupants of the LaSalle car, the two Brim brothers, their two friends and two maids, Florence Harrison and Florence Stubbs, all of Upper Arlington, escaped uninjured with the exception of shock and bruises.

The entire hospital staff was called into service to take care of the injured. Dr. H. D. Jackson and Dr. E. S. Shane were working with the injured.

PILOT LANDS PLANE WITHOUT WHEELS, SEVEN UNINJURED

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 19.—Five passengers and a co-pilot owed their lives today to the coolness and skill of Pilot Melford B. Freeburg in safely landing a Northwest Airlines passenger plane without its wheels.

For an hour and a half Pilot Freeburg circled the air liner above the airport here last night, unable to move the retractable landing gear, folded up under the ship.

Finally he dumped the gasoline load and, circling low over the field dotted with fire-fighting equipment and ambulances summoned to the scene, swung the plane down to a landing.

The huge ship bounced to a three-point contact with the ground, scraped along and came to a stop virtually undamaged except for a bent propeller and scratches on the under surface of the fuselage.

IOWA STRIKE ENDS RESTORING POWER SERVICE TO CITY

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 19.—Complete light and power service was resumed in Des Moines today after a strike of mechanical workers of the Des Moines Electric Light company and the Iowa Power and Light company, affiliated organizations, had shut off power facilities and most of the electricity service during the early morning hours.

DEATH TOLL 13

(By International News Service)
Two fresh outbreaks in Maine and the death at Charlotte, N. C., of a striker wounded in a riot last night, marked the textile front today. The fatality brought the strike death toll in the south to 13.

D. A. R. Holds First Meeting at Mound City

The initial meeting of the 1934-1935 calendar year of "Pickaway Plains chapter Daughters of the American Revolution" was held in a picturesque spot, Tuesday afternoon.

Some thirty members and guests journeyed to the historical site, Mound City park, near Chillicothe, for the 4 p. m. session.

It was a typical autumn day and arriving guests found two long tables prepared by the hostess committee of which Miss Charlotte Phelps was chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. Beryl Stevenson, Mrs. Paul A. Johnson, Mrs. Edna I. Crist and Mrs. Charles Pugsley.

Mrs. Harry J. Dunlap, regent of the local chapter, held a brief business session. Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. C. C. Watts, chaplain. Minutes were read by Mrs. Charles Gerhardt, recording secretary.

The district D. A. R. meeting was announced for Columbus, Sept. 26.

An article relative to Constitution Day was read by Mrs. Beryl Stevenson. The chapter voted to subscribe to a fund for a tablet honoring Mrs. Asa Messenger, state D. A. R. regent, and to purchase two additional genealogical volumes for the library.

It was decided that Wednesday afternoon and evening of Pumpkin Show week, the organization would assume charge of the booth of the Benevolent society.

Mrs. Vernon Barrett, of Nathaniel Massie chapter D. A. R., Chillicothe, was introduced by Mrs. Dunlap. She responded with greetings.

Prof. Shetrone of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society gave an address on The Ohio Mounds. Prof. Shetrone was chiefly responsible for the preservation and restoration of Mound City park.

In his discussion of mounds and their builders he mentioned that Mound City was the site of the homes of our first Ohioans about 15 or 18,000 years ago. He spoke of the historical spot on which he was standing as the site of three cantonments.

The various habits and customs of the Mound Builders were related and the questions, "Who were the Mound Builders?" and "What happened to them?" were explicitly dealt with by the speaker.

At the conclusion of the address a picnic supper was enjoyed near the shelter house of the park.

DINNER PARTY TUESDAY HONORS HOUSE GUEST

Complimenting her house guest, Miss Iris Wennstrom of Stockholm, Sweden, Miss N. Oesterle entertained with a dinner bridge party at her home near Ashville Tuesday evening.

Miss Wennstrom, who is with the Swedish consular service, is now located in New York City, and makes her home at the Hotel Shelton. She came Sunday to be Miss Oesterle's house guest for two weeks.

Miss Wennstrom was formerly in Washington D. C. as secretary to the minister from Sweden, and served in consular work in Finland, Germany and Great Britain before coming to the United States. She and her hostess met several years ago when the latter was located in Washington.

Attractive centerpieces of dwarf marigolds were used on the prettily appointed small tables for the dinner.

Covers were laid for Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. Martin Cromley, Miss Helen Bowers, Miss Florence Brown, Miss Louise Hay and Miss Eliza Plum of Ashville; Miss Ruth Gerhardt of Washington C. H.; Mrs. A. L. Everett of Delaware; Mrs. A. M. Hamilton and Mrs. Frank Barnhill of Marion; Mrs. W. Covert Hardy, Mrs. Walter D. Krause, Mrs. Edgar Littlefield, Mrs. E. J. Staton, Miss Dorothea Conrad, Miss Edith Daklin, Miss Jessie Doersam, Miss Dorothy King, Miss Elizabeth Mohr, Miss Jean James, Miss Lorna Richard, Miss Marjorie West, Miss Margaret Westervelt, Miss Alma Fourman and Miss Cornelia Moore James of Columbus.

LUTHER LEAGUE MEETS AT MISS BARCH'S HOME

Forty members and guests of the Luther League of Trinity Lutheran church gathered at the home of Miss Annabelle Barch, Jackson-twp, Tuesday evening for their September session.

Rev. George L. Troutman, president, was in charge of the business meeting during which Miss Barch was appointed to represent the local league at the fall meeting of the Scioto and Hocking Valley Luther League association to be held Oct. 21 at St. Paul. Miss Barch will have the topic, "Spiritualism," to discuss. Plans were made for a Halloween party in October. The date will be announced later.

Miss Mary Crist and Gladden Troutman gave talks on their trip through the western states this summer and the remainder of the evening was spent in games and contests in charge of Miss Barch.

A wafers and marshmallow treat was then enjoyed by the group. Miss Barch was assisted by the league's September refreshment committee.

Enroute home from Miami University, Oxford, where they accompanied their son, John, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Spence, 3199 Whitehome-rd., Cleveland Heights, are guests Wednesday and Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Johnson, Northridge-rd.

Bicycles Again Becoming Popular in the U. S.

America is going back to bicycles again and the highways and byways virtually neglected by the cyclists since the turn of the present century are filling again with long lines of speeding, hunch-backed peddlers weaving in and out of motor traffic. The gasoline engine buggy was the factor which took a death dealing swipe at the tandems and single seaters. The U. S. wheel industry, which in 1899 manufactured and sold over a million bikes, moved constantly towards "extinction" until depression days which brought a renewed popularity in the vehicles, mainly because bikes are much cheaper to operate than automobiles. Europe has long clung to the wheel for transportation. Holland, for example, with a population of less than 9,000,000, boasts of almost 3,000,000 single-se-

AT D. U. V. CONVENTION MISS MILLER TO PRESIDE

Mrs. L. E. Miller, Watt-st, president of district No. 6 of the Daughters of the Union Veterans, will preside at the district's convention to be held Wednesday, Oct. 10, at Memorial hall with members of the Catherine Woffley Hedges tent as hostesses. Eleven tents will be represented at this meeting.

Plans for the convention were made at the regular meeting of the local tent held Tuesday evening in the Post room with about twenty five members present. Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, tent president, was in charge of the meeting.

MRS. BOGGS ENTERTAINS CARD CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Irwin Boggs, S. Court-st, assembled two tables of bridge at her home, Tuesday evening, for an interesting game of contract. Guests were members of her club and Mrs. William Avis.

Mrs. Ed Mason received high score award when tallies were added.

Next week Mrs. I. N. Abernethy, S. Court-st, will be hostess to the club.

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Members of her two table bridge club were guests of Miss Mary Ellen Phillips, Pinckney-st, Tuesday evening, when she entertained with a party at the American hotel coffee shop.

When tallies were added at the conclusion of the interesting game high score favors were presented Miss Katherine Firsich and Mrs. Wendell Boyer.

A delicious salad course was served after the game.

Next week the club will meet with Miss Iola Wentworth, W. Union-st.

Miss Mary Curtin, S. Scioto-st, left Tuesday for Nashville, Tenn., where she will be a freshman at Ward Belmont college.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Imbler, E. Main-st, returned Tuesday evening from a three weeks' trip. They visited with Mr. Imbler's son, Dr. Fern Imbler and Mrs. Imbler in Kansas City, Mo., and spent week in White Cloud, Kansas, with Mrs. Imbler's niece, Mrs. William Bevens and Mr. Bevens.

Gerald Marion Jr., of Toledo, is visiting his grandfather, Walter Marion and Mr. and Mrs. George Marion, Lancaster-pk.

BURNED SHIP RETAINS SECRET

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 19.—If ever the real story of what caused the Morro Castle fire, which took 132 lives, is told it will have to be told by the survivors. The wrecked hull of the $5,500,000 luxury liner will never tell. Admitting this, Dickerson N. Hoover, chairman of the United States department of commerce inquiry into the disaster today was to resume his questioning of witnesses in New York.

Accompanied by four other officials, Mr. Hoover yesterday boarded the rust-red hulk of the vessel, beached a stone's throw off the board walk here, to see for himself where the fire started and what caused it. Weary and covered with rust, Hoover came off after four hours on the boat. He said:

ALL DESTROYED

"The entire interior of the ship is a shambles. It is all burned—the library, the cargo holds, the bridge, the records, everything. We cannot tell where the fire started, or how. All we could tell was the fire burned with terrible intensity throughout the ship."

"We gained a better picture of the entire situation, however, and found evidence to support several leads which have been given us. We will recall Acting Captain Warmas and other officers of the ship for questioning."

Hoover said, however, he would not recall the ship's officer until after he had finished questioning other witnesses. He said he would call George I. Alagna and Charles Maki, second and third radio officers today.

Alagna, variously termed "hero," "Radical" and "trouble maker," thus far in the investigation is expected to offer highly important testimony about the half-hour delay in the sending of the SOS the morning of the holocaust. It was he who acted as messenger between the chief radio operator, who finally sent out the SOS after 30 precious minutes had been wasted, and Acting Captain Warmas, who never has given a clear explanation of this delay.

LIFEBOATS VISITED

Following his inspection of the Morro Castle yesterday, Hoover and his aides travelled down the Jersey shore inspecting the lifeboats which brought some four-score survivors ashore the morning of the tragedy.

It had been charged during the hearing that the buoyancy tanks in these lifeboats had been defective, had been full of holes which were covered only by a coat of paint.

In Fist Fight Slaying

Granville, unsuccessful candidate for U. S. senate. A brilliant orator and stalwart supporter of the New Deal, the congressman thrilled his listeners with a fact-supported defense of President Roosevelt's recovery program.

Tall and common-looking, Mr. West, a former professor at Denison university, impressed the entire throng with his keen intellect and piercing delivery. "This whole great program," he concluded, "is founded in the heritages of Thomas Jefferson's principles of Democracy."

CITES STEAM-ROLLER

Governor George White, another aspirant to the senatorial nomination, was on the stage, heartily greeting his two rivals and in a speech bristled with humor, said he was sure Congressman West and himself both felt taller after Vic Donahey's steam-roller had passed over them on August 14.

In his short talk, "Vic," hindered quite frequently by the shouts of applause for him, pledged 100 percent support to President Roosevelt, but added that he would never surrender his right to vote as he chose in the interests of his people.

The three Democratic gubernatorial candidates were also on the stage. Lieutenant-Governor Charles Sawyer, of Cincinnati, ably serving as permanent chairman of the convention, was highly applauded by his admirers as was also William G. Pickrel, of Dayton, another primary candidate. Both pledged their support to Martin L. Davey's campaign for the governorship. Sawyer and Davey were classmates at Oberlin college 30 years ago. Pickrel and Sawyer also studied law at the University of Cincinnati many years ago, it was learned.

Enthusiasm for Mr. Davey, who was smiling most of the time, ranked only next to Mr. Donahey. Possessing a pleasing personality and a clear voice, Davey spoke to the convention as he would to a group of friends. He invited every one to attend his inauguration in Columbus in January.

It was this expressed feeling among candidates themselves that caused members of the convention to be so enthusiastic. A delegation of Pickaway county was among the group that often felt the need to shout.

"I have never seen enthusiasm at such a high pitch or witnessed the harmony that I saw today," George G. Adkins, chairman of the Pickaway-co executive committee, and a delegate to the convention declared.

Others attending the convention from this county included Fred Briggs, of New Holland, chairman of the county central committee; James McLaughlin, president of the Democratic club; L. T. Shaw, who served as assistant sergeant-at-arms in the convention; K. J. Herrmann, T. D. Krinn, John W. Hay, Robert Young, Morris J. Boggs, Charles H. Radcliff, Harry Bartholomew, Harry Denman, Ernie Weller, John G. Ward, J. C. Rader, Clark K. Hunsicker, and A. L. Wilder.

up," she said. "The other one replied: 'Never mind the stickup, we're going after Rowe. I've got it all planned.'"

Several other references were made to the baseball star, Mrs. Talbot said. Once during her imprisonment in what appeared to be a comfortably furnished house or apartment near Pontiac, she said, one of the men, reading in a newspaper that the Tigers had won yesterday's game, exclaimed: "Boy! Rowe won again. He's a cinch for a lot of dough!"

Mrs. Talbot was unharmed, Pontiac police said, when she appeared at police headquarters there, but her clothes were disheveled, and the buttons had been torn off her coat.

WOULD PAY RANSOM

Police expressed doubt that any plot to kidnap Schoolboy Rowe was afoot but admitted that he would be an ideal "snatch" victim, since the Tigers would probably pay heavily to ransom him for the world series.

Now that it has been discovered that a drug many women are taking for reducing purposes is a high explosive, you men in taking to a girl friends autoing would be used to pick roads which are free of bumps.

PATTERN 9122

One way you look at it, that becoming business in the front is just a jabot buttoned up on to the frock—and then in another way it resembles a vest. But any way you look at it, it is very smart and extremely new. Think of it in white satin on a dull, canton crepe dress with crystal buttons holding it in place! And now look at the dress! Observe how the panels in the skirt follow the long point of the bodice. You simply have no idea how slim and attractive that makes a woman look. And don't overlook the fact that the dress has exceedingly interesting sleeves.

Pattern 9122 may be ordered only in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 1/4 yards 39 inch fabric and 1/2 yard contrasting.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

THE FALL AND WINTER ISSUE of the MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN BOOK is now off the press. It is big fashion news... and delightful reading... filled with stunning and easy-to-make patterns for street and house dresses, blouses, skirts, lingerie, sports clothes... all the essentials of a smart outfit for matron, maiden or little child. Birds Win First Series Tilt, 12-6

MINNEAPOLIS, Min., Sept. 19. — Safely over the first hurdle, the Bad Birds started round the turn into the second game with the Minneapolis Millers today with high hopes for the pitching ability of either Ed Greer or Bud Tenebrum to bring them the second straight victory in the crucial play-off series in the American Association.

The Birds won the first game here yesterday by a score of 12 to 6 when they knocked off Joe Shaute and Jim Chaplin, two

Miller mound men, for 15 hits, including five doubles and two home runs for a total of 26 bases.

RIGGS, G. MOORE CLOUT
 Lefty Riggs and Gene Moore connected for the circuit clout.

Junior Jim Elliott also allowed the Millers 13 hits, including two home runs, kept the batter's eye steady.

The Birds will play at Minneapolis today and Thursday, coming to the Columbus grounds on Sunday to finish the series, with the team winning four games first to represent the Association in the Little World Series against the International League champion.

Jimmy McLarnin Returns to Welterweight Top

a bruising 15-round battle at Madison Square Garden in New York City. Jimmy McLarnin, who had been in the welterweight division, returned to his old position as champion of 25,000, after the bout had been postponed numerous times because of inclement weather. Rushed by plane from New York, McLarnin promised Ross another night at the title.

TIGERS HANDED PASSING PLAYS

Henry and Speedman Take Turns Handling Leather; Many See Action.

Pass plays with Don Henry, a southpaw, and George Speedman, a right-hander, were given to Columbus high school's gridiron, Tuesday evening, by Coach Pete Herberholz.

A long drill with scrimmage part of the time saw the plays work to good advantage. Herberholz used several different backfield combinations with Henry, Speedman, Bill Coleman, Mader, Davis and several others getting a lot of practice. Osborne and Griffiths were on the sidelines with a sprained ankle and a cold respectively.

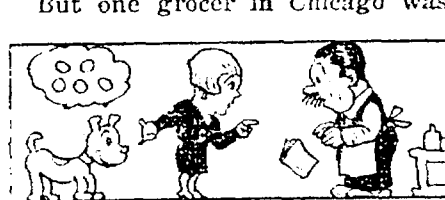

Big George Roth, only man on the team weighing 200 pounds, was being used at the snapper-back position Tuesday. Grant and Friley, the latter in Osborne's place, held down the ends with the Watts twins at the guard spots. Faculty Manager E. J. Gephart announced Wednesday that the game with Columbus Academy would start promptly at 3 o'clock Friday with 35 cents and 20 cents the price of admission. Vert and Smith will handle the whistles.

The following week the Tigers will visit Lancaster to play under the lights. Lancaster meets St. Mary's rival school, this week and it is probable that Coach Herberholz and some of his hopefuls will be in the stands.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

IN SOME towns the ladies take their chow dogs along when they go to the grocery store. If a grocer has got to sell to these ladies to make a living, he better not get too fresh about ordering the dogs out, and he don't.

pretty mad when he said to a lady, "Say, lady, do you know that your dog ate five of my best eggs?"

"Are you sure they are your best eggs?"

"Absolutely!"

"Right in from the country, and not storage stuff?"

"Oh, well, then I guess it's all right," she says. "I was going to say that if it was some of them storage eggs you left lying around for Catey to eat, I'd have to do something about it. But your best eggs are pretty fresh, and I'm sure they won't hurt his little tummy!"

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks purple, it is because a lot of salts, mineral waters, laxatives and chewing gum and other things have been put into your system. They are not doing you any good. They are only making you feel worse. They are only making you feel worse. They are only making you feel worse.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

YOUTH BIG FACTOR

THE ENTHUSIASM OF YOUTH is one of the biggest factors in the success of the "Bad Birds." Take, for instance, the first game of the series with the Millers when the Moore boys and Sweeney stole honors. The Moores are both young, they club that apple, and they run plenty. Both fight the string out—Sweeney, no longer a rookie, but a proven ball player with plenty of AAA class contributed his share. * * * We still favor Sweeney over Mickey Heath day in and day out for the first sack.

The Birds were much better than the Millers in Tuesday's game and should win today with Greer expected to take up the duties. In fact they should win no matter who takes up the mound chores—Jesse Petty will probably go to the hill for the Millers although Walter Tauscher, a right hander, is seen as a logical choice.

Hey you softball team managers—this is rather late but each of you owe John Carle of the Mercantile $2.00. There was not enough money in the league treasury to finance the banquet since 87 were fed. Mr. Carle even with the $2 from each of you will not make out on the spread. He gave the ball players.

ROWE AND GREENBERG

It was Schoolboy Rowe and Hank Greenberg again Tuesday. The hulster blundered the Yankees winning his sixth game of the year from that outfit and lengthened Detroit's lead to seven games. Tickets are now on sale at the Detroit office. Greenberg did his share, too. * * * Red Barber was tough for the Yankees but Greenberg broke the deadlock with a smash into the stands with the paths empty. Rowe drove over the other run after a singing outfielder was sacrificed to ground to set the stage.

It is said that moderns have not invented a single new, successful progress needn't be looking for new sources of revenue.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HAIR AND HAIR TREATMENTS

NOME'S HOMELESS CHEERED AS RELIEF SPEEDS NEARER

DAVEY HITS 'BOSSISM'

All Standing Residences Display "Welcome" Sign For Destitute; Movement Underway To Rebuild Alaska Town.

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 19.—Every residence in Nome that escaped the disastrous blaze which leveled thirty square blocks in this pioneer Alaska town bore a "welcome" sign today to the nearly 400 homeless and destitute.

Pioneer hospitality cheered those harassed by hunger and a freezing temperature—an omen of the fast approaching arctic winter when Nome will be icebound for eight months.

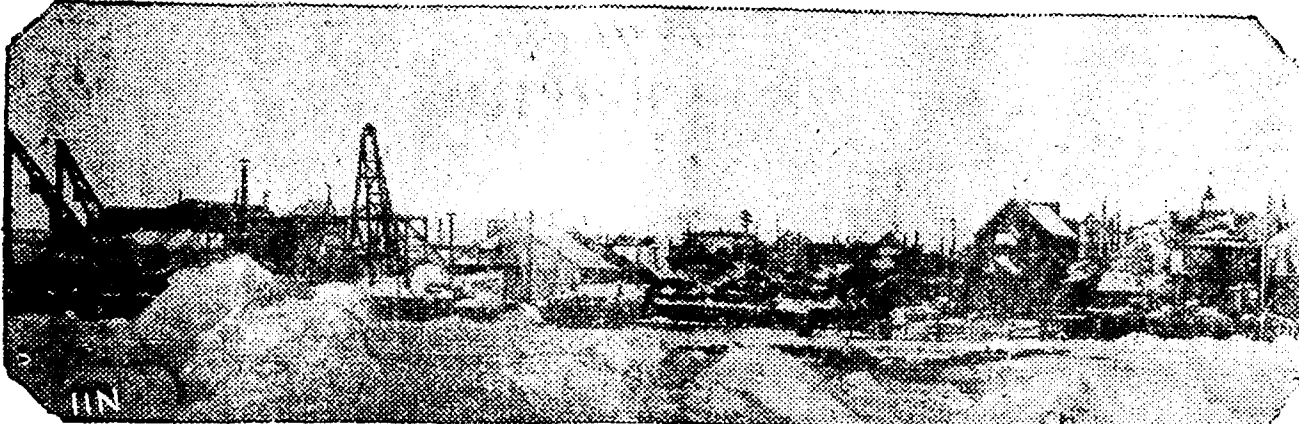

The stricken populace of Nome's 1,500 residents also was cheered by news that three coast guard cutters of the Bering Sea patrol were enroute here at top speed from Dutch harbor; that the steamer Victoria would arrive from Seattle Sept. 25 with several thousand tons of foodstuffs; that the steamer Dellwood would sail as a special relief ship from Seattle Saturday with 5,000 tons of food.

WORKS FOR RELIEF
Dazed and wan residents also managed a warm smile when advised of word from the Alaskan capital, Juneau, that Governor Troy was working out plans for federal relief to alleviate the critical situation before the port of Nome is closed within six weeks by the winter freezeup.

The city council and business men petitioned Washington for direct aid. They officially placed the fire loss at $3,000,000.

Every building in the business section of the town, except one

Nome, Alaska, Devastated by $1,000,000 Fire

hotel, a hospital and a few warehouses along the waterfront, lay in blackened ashes. A section of the residential district in the northern part of the town escaped.

A vigilante patrol of deputies patrolled the fire zone. All pilfering and plundering had ceased. Yesterday bands of drink-crazed halfbreeds ran through the town. A number were rounded up and placed in an improvised jail.

GETTING COLD
City officials and federal authorities were assisting the homeless today in obtaining shelter for the long winter period. The temperature was still going down. Freezing weather added to the misery. Two restaurants were set up in shacks. Ham and eggs were sold until supplies were exhausted. All grocery stocks saved from the fire were pooled today in one establishment.

The Alaskan road commission was clearing away the debris in the streets today but no immediate plans were being made for reconstruction of the razed area—ten blocks long and three blocks wide.

Nothing can be done until building material arrives. Reconstruction necessarily will be postponed until next spring.

Barberry for Decoration

The deciduous Japanese barberry is widely used as a hedge plant, because, in addition to its hardiness and ease of culture, it is green in summer, tinted in the fall, and strung with gorgeous red berries throughout the winter. It is a native of Japan, says the American Nature association, where it was discovered and sent to the St. Petersburg Botanic gardens by the Russian botanist, Carl Maximowicz, in 1864. The Arnold arboretum, near Boston, received seeds from St. Petersburg in 1875.

A $1,000,000 blaze sweeping Nome, Alaska, virtually wiped out the federal buildings, business district, and most of the residential sections, making hundreds of the population homeless and destroying most of the food supply of the city. Firemen sought futilely to stem the advance of the disastrous flames by dynamiting entire blocks of buildings. Here is a recent photo of Nome.

Educator Murdered in Home

Rev. Elliott Speer, internationally known educator, found murdered in the library of his home in Northfield, Mass.

offered to support him if he could be assured all patronage in his county.

"If it is necessary for him to make a hog of himself, I don't want his support," said Davey of the anonymous boss. "He can choose for himself whether or not he wants to be a good Democrat and support the ticket."

"If he doesn't choose to do so, he can go to hell so far as I am concerned."

There followed much speculation among the Democrats who heard Davey's pointed declaration as to whom he had in mind.

"Would we be far wrong in assuming you referred to 'Billy' Leonard, of Cincinnati?" reporters asked him.

Without saying he did or did not refer to the Hamilton county leader, Davey replied: "Now, don't draw any conclusions."

Democrats who came to the convention to learn how far Vice Donahy, the U. S. senatorial nominee against Republican Sen. Simon D. Fess, would go in support of the New Deal, heard him say:

"As a member of the senate of the United States I will honestly support President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the general policies of the administration in every proper manner, but I shall never surrender my independent duty as a representative of the people of this state."

FOLLOWS PLATFORM

Donahy took no part in the platform-framing and in his address he ignored it, saying "my declaration of candidacy issued several months ago is my platform."

"The constitution," he stated, "is the bulwark of our liberties and I will never vote for any measure to deprive the people of their constitutional rights."

He explained that by that remark he did not mean "that there is any occasion for narrowly interpreting the constitution." He promised to work for election of the entire ticket.

U. S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley, who followed Donahy on the list of speakers and who campaigned for the nomination of Congressman Charles West for senator in the primary, after relating the merits of the Roosevelt "New Deal," endeavored to emphasize Donahy's acceptance of it.

"He (Donahy) has made it clear that he desires and intends to do everything he can to uphold the national administration," said Bulkley. "He knows that the New Deal is something more than an emergency remedy for a distressful situation, and that many features of it, and especially its underlying spirit, have come to stay."

Gov. George White, whose former political affection for Bulkley broke when Ohio's Democratic senator came out against his senatorial candidacy in the primary and whose administration Davey, the gubernatorial nominee, assailed frequently in the primary, threw no wrenches into the convention harmony.

UP TO LEGISLATURE

He spoke very briefly, defended his own administration, endorsed the entire Democratic ticket and made no reference to the failure of the platform adopted a few hours previously. He included a specific program for raising new revenues needed by schools and local governments in 1935.

The platform left solution of the troublesome taxation question in the hands of the state legislature, after recognizing the need for new revenue and judging the party to maximum economy in operating costs of state government.

It advocated the levying of taxes "according to the ability to pay" and proposed to first ascertain the minimum revenue requirement before determining what new taxes shall be levied.

In line with Davey's own program for a "New Deal for Ohio" enunciated by him during the primary campaign, the platform contained a promise of a law permitting monthly tax payments instead of twice a year as at present, and the settlement of taxes delinquent since 1930 on "an easy payment plan" without penalty.

Davey's own proposal of a 2-year moratorium on all municipal and school bonds insofar as the principal is concerned but not the interest drew so much fire in a caucus of the state and congressional candidates that they finally scuttled it. It never reached the convention floor.

But the nominee was reported to have served notice that he would make the bond moratorium a personal issue in the campaign. He told reporters he considered the proposal sound and saw in it a means for subdivisions to obtain necessary operating revenues for the next two years.

MONOPOLY UPHELD

The liquor plank adopted praises the principle of state monopoly control, but sees the need for radical changes in the present laws administration.

H. R. Fuller, Warren, candidate for the state legislature, criticized the proceedings by insisting on the floor of the convention that he given a chance to submit his municipally-owned utilities plank to the convention.

Adroit parliamentary maneuvering by the temporary chairman, Congressman West, subdued Fuller, and the delegates sustained the chairman in ruling that the Trumbull coalition had not properly submitted his proposal which the state legislature had rejected. Shouting "steam roller," Fuller accused the convention of refusing to go on record for one of President Roosevelt's own proposals, identifying his utilities plank as such.

His proposal was to permit either cities or rural districts dissatisfied with service rendered or rates charged by a utility, to set up, after a referendum vote, its own governmentally-owned and operated service.

In answer to the statement of George S. Myers, Cleveland, resolutions committee chairman, that no new laws were necessary to achieve Fuller's purpose, the latter replied that cities but not rural district under present laws may operate municipally-owned utilities.

Near the Southern Cross
Some of the most beautiful and interesting regions in the Mill Way, says Nature Magazine, are the most complex and diversified in structure, are to be found near the Southern Cross and in Argo Navis. From Scorpio and Sagittarius it passes through Ara, Lupus, Norma, Crux, and Centaurus to Argo, and then northward once more into the northern hemisphere in Ursa Major completing its circuit of the heavens.

a good cigarette gives you a lot of pleasure

... just about every cigarette smoker knows that—but here are some other facts to keep in mind... For a cigarette to be milder and taste better it must be made of mild, ripe Turkish and home-grown tobaccos.

We wish you could go into the factories and see Chesterfield made. The mild ripe tobacco is cut in long even threads—then packed into the cigarette so as to make Chesterfield draw right and burn evenly.

A good cigarette can give you a lot of pleasure, and we would like for you to try Chesterfield.
